Products

At the front of the property, Scottish Green Schist Paving has been used. Although a relatively new paving product, this stone is in fact almost 1 billion years old .

The green paving slabs edged with Imperial Silver Grey Granite Setts beautifully complement the exterior of this contemporary residence, adding a hint of colour to an otherwise monochrome palette.

The stone is extremely tough, immense temperatures and pressures have elongated the materials, giving it beautiful and distinct waved pattern.

Green is a rare colour in the stone world, which makes this the perfect material for creating an attractive and unique outdoor space

The front garden boundary wall has been topped with our Imperial Silver Grey Coping & Pillar Caps.

Coping stones provide a stylish solution to finish or top a wall, they perform a vital protective role in preventing rain from cavity walls or penetrating solid walls.

To break up the large tarmac driveway planting borders have been created.

The planters have been created using Silver Grey Granite Kerb and Scottish Beach Pebbles have been used for mulching with larger sized cobbles added to give a more natural feel.

In the back garden Scottish Beach Cobbles and Pebbles have been used for a large flower bed.

The multi-pastel colourings add warmth to the garden whilst the range of sizes adds depth and interest.

Green Schist paving has also been used here for a small patio area once edged with Silver Grey Granite Imperial Setts. Silver Grey Granite Bullnosed Steps have been used for the stairway to a balcony area which features our EMPEROR Urban range, Manhattan Porcelain Paving.

PRIVATE RESIDENCE, PORSTSTEWART

The vista from the balcony looks out across the back garden with flower beds created with a mix of Cobbles, Feature Stones and Urbalreagh Blue Aggregate.
