

Whitfield Gardens, London

Case Study

Client: London Borough of Camden

Contractor: idverde

Architect: LDA Design

Materials supplied:

Portuguese Granite - Paving, Setts, Step Units and Kerbs and Edging

Whitfield Gardens, situated alongside Tottenham Court Road, has been refurbished as part of the West End Project to create and improve public garden areas; allowing people to enjoy relaxing open spaces in Central West London. We were chosen by the contractor to supply the stone elements to brighten up and improve this great space with an interesting colour mix.

This was a challenging project supplied during the 2020 pandemic; we had to deal with periodic factory and quarry lock-down closures.

Our granite supply included for Portuguese fine picked buff yellow, red and silver beige paving and sett mixes. Special angled Portuguese silver grey step units with dark grey nosing sections as well as kerbs and edgings. We also water-jet cut letters into several of the paving units which we then in-filled with black granite.

