A fantastic collection of complementary and contrasting materials bring style and warmth to this property creating a welcoming and functional garden space.

For the front garden, the customer desired a resin-bound surface and opted for Riviera Resin Aggregate edged with Imperial Black Basalt Edging Stones.

Around the side and to the rear of the property, Imperial Black Basalt Setts have been used as a buffer between the lawn and flower beds and between the resin-bound surface and the gravel path.

Irish Barley Quartzite Aggregate can be seen surrounding the shed.

The gravel pathway has been laid on ECCOgravel30 stabilisation system filled with Golden Flint Gravel.

The pathway leads to a small area of Black Imperial Setts below stairs to a raised patio area, the stairs have been paved with our Imperial Black Basalt Bullnosed Steps and clad with the same material.

PRIVATE RESIDENCE, NORTHERN IRELAND

For the patio area, the customer has chosen our EMPEROR Limerick Porcelain paving which beautifully complements the house and creates a warm and welcoming space for relaxing or entertaining guests.

Finally, the water feature that can be seen in the centre of the lawn has been created using a drilled rainbow sphere surrounded by Scottish Beach Cobbles and edged, again with Black Basalt Imperial Setts.
